Hi Everyone-

Just received this map (all the way at the bottom) from Melissa Montag at the Corps. Per her cover e-mail, the red line delineates the bounds of the National Historic Landmark (wow, it is huge), and the grey area more or less in the middle is the project area for the Corps' waste water treatment facility effort.

Eric.

Hi Eric,

I received your voice mail regarding the Virginia City National Historic Landmark looking for a map and follow on information on the NHL. I do have a map of the historic district and the landmark though I'm trying to get an updated map both for my project purposes and to share with you and the EPA. I'm attaching a map that at least shows the National Historic Landmark in red. The smaller black shape in the middle is the Corps' project area. I don't have a clean version without our project shown but this at least gives you some idea of how large the landmark is.

I'll give you a call shortly to discuss further.
